The table below should not be taken as exhaustive and the categories are not mutually exclusive, e.g. there are charities for Spanish and Portuguese Jews.

Only those charities that specify a particular ethnic or racial group in their name or objects are included in the table. This excludes some charities who work for refugees or migrants, teach English as a second language or work for racial harmony. It also excludes many charities for minority faiths, (Muslim, Hindu, Sikh) even though to a large extent they are made up of single ethnic groups – Asian Indian, Asian Pakistani etc...

Only categories with at least ten charities are shown in the table below. The total for the West Indies, for example, would be increased by including the small number of charities for people from Trinidad, St Lucia etc. In addition to the figure shown for Nepal, there are a few charities for Gurkhas.
